

Economic stakes at the 2015 Paris Climate Conference of the Parties

French Ministry of Ecology, Sustainable Development and Energy

Auditorium – Hôtel de Roquelaure

244 Bvd Saint Germain, 75007 Paris

June 4 2015

With the 2015 Paris conference of the parties approaching, the Climate Economics Chair (CEC) of Paris-Dauphine University and the Toulouse School of Economics (TSE) launch a joint initiative of economists mobilization to emphasize the importance of economic instruments and carbon pricing in any international agreement. This initiative is supported by the French public administration. The June 4 seminar represents the official launching of this CEC/TSE common project.

CONFERENCE : WHICH OPTIONS FOR INTERNATIONAL COORDINATION?

9:00 - 9:30	Welcoming participants
9:30 - 10:00	The French Minister of Ecology, Sustainable Development and Energy, Mrs. Ségolène Royal : Preparation and stakes at the 2015 Paris conference
10:00 - 12:00	Round Table : Jean Tirole (TSE), Christian de Perthuis (CEC), Gérard Mestrallet (GDF-Suez) Antoine Frérot (Véolia)
12:00 - 12:15	Morning conclusions : Jean Tirole et Christian de Perthuis
12:15 - 13:00	Lunch

SEMINAR : ECONOMIC INSTRUMENTS AND CLIMATE CHANGE NEGOTIATION

13:00 - 13:15	Presentation of the CEC-TSE common initiative by Pierre-André Jouvet (CEC) and Christian Gollier (TSE)
13:15 - 13:45	Special address - Robert Stavins (Harvard) : Carbon pricing and international agreement
13:45 - 15:15	Carbon pricing, innovation and long-term trajectories Gilles Lafforgue (TSE-TBS) Pierre-André Jouvet (CEC) Thierry Brechet (CORE, UC Louvain) Matthieu Glachant (MinesParisTech)
15:15 - 15:45	Coffee break
15:45 - 17:15	Carbon Pricing: outcomes of a 25 years experience Raphael Trotignon (CEC) Christian Gollier (TSE) Roger Guesnerie (Collège de France) Dominique Bureau (CEDD)
17:15 - 17:30	Conclusion of the academic sessions : Christian Gollier et Pierre-André Jouvet