

1st CEPR Health Economics Conference

June 19 & 20, 2023
Toulouse

Call for paper

1st CEPR Conference in Health Economics

Organized by Pierre Dubois (TSE and CEPR) and Jean Tirole (TSE and CEPR)

Scope and objective:

The objective of the conference, organized by the TSE Health Center at the Toulouse School of Economics with the help of CEPR, is to discuss recent contributions to the understanding of the organization and regulation of the health care and pharmaceutical sectors.

The conference will provide a global forum for path-breaking health economics research critical to public policy, financing, and technology innovation.

Keynote speakers:

Amitabh Chandra (Harvard Business School)

and

Rena Conti (Boston University)

Research themes

We welcome research papers in the domain of regulation, financing of innovation, R&D, intellectual property rights, patents, orphan disease financing, organization and access of health care, competition, regulation of pharmaceutical markets, diagnostic, clinical trials regulation, international aspects of competition and regulation, parallel trade, reference pricing, performance pay systems, precision medicine, telemedicine, digital technologies, ...

Link to submit: <https://www.tse-fr.eu/call-paper-1st-cepr-conference-health-economics>

Submission information:

Deadline for papers submission: February 15th, 2023.

Acceptance: no later than March 4th, 2023

Individuals who do not plan to submit a paper but are interested in serving as a discussant can make this known by email to marie-helene.dufour@tse-fr.eu.

Date of the conference:

The conference will begin on the morning of Monday, June 19th and conclude the evening of Tuesday June 20th. It will take place in person in Toulouse, it is not an hybrid conference. Attendance is free but registration is mandatory.

Funding:

The conference will follow a pay-your-own-way model, so all participants will need to cover their own travel expenses. The conference will provide lunches and dinners.

For young researchers (Ph.D candidates and assistant professor) without funding, funding by CEPR for travel and accommodation will be available, candidates must signal this request when submitting their paper.

Conference Venue:

Toulouse School of Economics (TSE) -1, Esplanade de l'Université 31080 Toulouse Cedex 06

More information :

Conference secretariat : marie-helene.dufour@tse-fr.eu

Conference website page : <https://www.tse-fr.eu/conferences/2023-1st-cepr-conference-health-economics>