CALL FOR PAPERS

Date and location:

Toulouse, January 11 & 12, 2024.

The conference will take place in person in Toulouse. This is not a hybrid conference.

Background and objective:

The objective of the conference, organized by the TSE Digital Center at the Toulouse School of Economics, with the help of the CEPR, is to discuss recent contributions to the understanding of the digital economy and its consequences for modern societies.

The conference will feature contributions in economics - theoretical, econometric, experimental and policy oriented - as well as contributions from other social sciences and computer and data science.

Keynote speakers:

To be announced

Organizing committee:

Alexandre de Cornière, Jacques Crémer and Paul Seabright.

Submission:

To submit your abstract or paper, click here.

Papers should be received by October 2, 2023 (abstracts will be considered, but papers are more likely to be accepted).

We provide funding for accommodation but not for travel to speakers in contributed sessions. A limited number of travel bursaries will be available to PhD students and junior scholars (less than 5 years from PhD) whose papers are accepted for contributed sessions and who do not have other sources of finance. Please state in your submission whether you wish to be considered for such a bursary. If your paper is accepted you will need to demonstrate eligibility.

For any further information, please write to digitconf@tse-fr.eu or contact a member of the organizing committee.
