

Say It Aloud

Say it aloud aims at giving students the floor. It is about making them feel comfortable while speaking and widening the economic frame provided by the School by addressing other themes.

Every year, the association organizes conferences on a wide range of topics, such as new agricultural methods, research, and even Bitcoin. The themes are chosen collaboratively by the team, which also handles the organization to ensure the conferences are relevant and engaging.

It also offers public speaking workshops to help everyone develop and refine their own personal style.

The association is launching a new participatory podcast focused on student life and economics, where researchers and students are invited to share their experiences, ideas, and work.

The TSEconomist

The TSE Economist
Student Magazine

The TSEconomist is a magazine produced and designed by TSE students. Students publish this magazine to help develop its readers' critical thinking skills and connect researchers, TSE Alumni, and the school's students, bringing the TSE Community together around debates on major social issues.

Join us to work on various activities which precede the creation of each edition:

- write articles and conduct interviews
- cover events on campus
- collaborate in the design of the magazine
- read articles and make corrections (proof-reading)
- promote the TSEconomist
- become a member of the committee

If you wish to get involved in this project or bring new ideas to the table, contact them!

Welcome to TSE, welcome to your School!

Studying at TSE is also an opportunity to get involved in School life — a vibrant and dynamic experience shaped by the many events and initiatives led by our students. Whatever your interests may be, you'll find a place to express them within the School's student associations.

We are working closely with their leaders to better coordinate activities for the benefit of all students in the School Cycle (L3-M1-M2). Our aim is to strengthen the sense of community while maintaining momentum, through a structure that will soon be supported by the BDE-TSE, in collaboration with existing student organizations.

Wishing you a fulfilling and successful journey at TSE!

François Poinas – Dean of Education

BDE

The TSE Student Association

The main mission of the Bureau des Élèves (BDE) is to animate student life at the school, bring students together and create unforgettable memories. We centralize community life and represent you to the administration.

Our BDE is at your service to facilitate your integration, whatever your background, and to set the pace for life at the Toulouse School of Economics.

We organize a multitude of events throughout the year. Our most popular events are the Integration Weekend (WEI), the Ski Weekend (WES) and the Gala. We also organize a number of parties in partner bars well known in Toulouse student life, such as the Integration, Halloween and Post midterm exam parties.

The BDE association is in charge of the Buddy Program, a key initiative for fostering community spirit and welcoming students, especially international ones.

The BDE is also about culture and the arts. We offer cultural outings (cinemas, museums, etc.) and creative workshops (painting, embroidery, etc.).

Last but not least, every year we offer a range of goodies (sweatshirts, T-shirts, water bottles, tote bags) for sale, so that everyone can proudly represent our school.

The BDE is your association – all students in the School Cycle are encouraged to join.

For more information, visit our Instagram profile. Don't hesitate to contact us if you'd like to get involved in our association or suggest projects and events.

Junior Études

Junior Etudes is part of the Junior-Enterprise movement — France's leading student network, bringing together over 2,000 Junior Entrepreneurs. These students connect businesses and students by conducting paid consulting projects.

TSE Junior Etudes offers services in Macroeconomics, Market Research, AI & Data Science, Environmental Economics, and Research Support. It has notably completed projects for the French National Assembly, the ENAC-Airbus-Sopra Steria research chair, and a machine learning mission focused on churn rate prediction.

There are two ways to get involved in the Junior Enterprise:

- Active Member: contribute to the management and growth of the association. You can join one of several teams: Communications, Business Development, Finance, Quality, or the Executive Board.
- Project Contributor: take part in one-off assignments related to the services listed above, and get paid for your work. It's the perfect opportunity to apply what you've learned at TSE in real-life projects.

Being part of TSE Junior Etudes – whatever form of involvement you choose – means joining an ambitious project driven by a motivated team. It's a valuable experience for your résumé, but above all, a human adventure rich in professional and personal connections.

Come meet us on social media — or drop by our office in MF002!

BDS

Blue Hawks

What's the goal of BDS Blue Hawks? To make TSE pulse to the rhythm of sport!

This student association brings people together through unifying sports events, fosters team spirit in a healthy competitive environment, and proudly represents TSE in university tournaments.

This year, everything is in place to take it to the next level: new jerseys, new partnerships, sports nights, inter-school tournaments... and more fans than ever to cheer on our teams!

But BDS isn't just for hardcore athletes! Whether you're a casual weekend player or a loyal supporter, there's definitely an event for you.

Join the association and make the most of your year with BDS Blue Hawks!
