“Risk and Choice: A Conference in Honor of Louis Eeckhoudt”

Toulouse, July 12-13, 2012

Louis Eeckhoudt is professor at Ieseg (Lille) and associated professor at Core (Belgique). His deep contributions to decision theory and the economics of risk have significantly advanced both fields. This conference is a unique occasion to discuss the most recent developments, from high orders of risk aversion to multivariate stochastic dominance and non-expected utility models.

Organized by:

Christian Gollier, Toulouse School of Economics (LERNA)
James K. Hammitt, Harvard University and TSE (LERNA-INRA)
Nicolas Treich, Toulouse School of Economics (LERNA-INRA)
